THE RITUAL COLLECTION — BATCH № 18

CLINICALLY DOSED · SMALL BATCH · CERTIFIED CRUELTY-FREE · NO SYNTHETIC FRAGRANCE · GLASS, NOT PLASTIC

OUR PHILOSOPHY

Most routines ask for more. Ours asks for less, better.

Twelve years of formulation taught us one thing: skin doesn't need twenty products. It needs five that work. Each AMBRELLE formula is built around a single botanical hero, dosed at the concentration the research supports — then stripped of everything else.

THE MAISON

We didn't set out to make skincare. We set out to make less of it.

AMBRELLE began in 2019 as a formulation studio that said no — to trend ingredients, to fourteen-step routines, to launches timed for algorithms rather than skin.

CHAPTER ONE

A studio, not a factory.

The atelier sits above a former apothecary, and we've kept its habits. Formulas are poured in batches of nine hundred, never more, each one numbered by hand — you'll find your batch number on the base of every bottle. When a batch sells through, the next one is made fresh; nothing waits in a warehouse, slowly oxidising under fluorescent light.

Our head chemist spent eleven years in pharmaceutical dermatology before deciding that the most interesting brief was the simplest one: five formulas that a person could keep for life. Not five heroes for this season. Five, full stop. Every reformulation since has had to fight its way in — batch 18 carries exactly four improvements over batch 1, each one earned in the lab, not the marketing meeting.

The result is a collection that reads like a menu from a very disciplined kitchen. One cleanser. One mist. One serum. One cream. One balm. Each built around a single botanical hero at the concentration the research supports, carried by as few supporting ingredients as chemistry allows.
